A Locked-Diary AI Companion.

Constructive Curiosity in Action

This deep-memory sequencing happens automatically on the free tier. This isn't a chatbot reacting to your last prompt. It is a companion building a continuous architecture of your thoughts.

The Receipt-Tone Playbook

- Step 1: We confirm what we heard using your exact language.
- Step 2: We surface the clarity of your inescapable patterns.
- Step 3: We hold you accountable to your own logged behavior.

The affirmation-AI market is saturated.
MAITE is an instrument built for accountability work

Crisis-Mode Framing: De-escalation, Not Sleep-Shaming.

When you journal at 2 AM, MAITE shifts posture.
We do not sleep-shame. We do not nag you to close the app.
The relationship is maintained through deep, structural support exactly when the inner critic takes over.

Architecture: No centralized cloud chatbot platform. Your 2 AM thoughts and accountability journals are never mined for ad targeting or .

We back off when you're burning out.

The cynical read: "They back off to keep you subscribed by reducing pressure."
The MAITE reality: Your well-being is the product, not your engagement metrics.
This is an anti-guilt mechanic, not a churn hack.

	The Cloud Chatbot	MAITE
Business Model	Engagement-Time	The Patron Vault
Persona Output	Pulls toward Sycophancy	Tuned for Constructive Curiosity
Crisis Handling (2 AM)	De-escalation hurts metrics	De-escalation protects the patron
Privacy	Centralized training data	100% On-device, no pipes

True accountability requires an architectural opt-out from the engagement economy.

The Architectural Opt-Out.

To sustain a locked-diary without relying on engagement metrics, we do not require millions of users. We rely on a finite patron community.
